

London's High Class Wedding Coordinators

Your Day is a high class wedding coordinating company that has obtained excellence by creating breathtaking weddings and as a result are recognised as a quality events management company. Whatever stage you are at when planning your wedding, Your Day provides three luxury packages that will aid you no matter how far in or behind you are in your planning.

The packages are split into three categories. The most exclusive package is the Platinum Wedding Consulting service, which enables you as a bride to get maximum help and creative ideas for your wedding. Not only will they organise your entire wedding; they are able to get fantastic rates with top suppliers as they have built excellent supplier and client relationships. This Package includes unlimited consultations, personal attendance and assistance at your wedding ceremony, personal management of the day's itinerary and vendors. You will also receive free wedding style consultation, plus a full wedding coordinating services on the day for a maximum of 12 hours and much more.

Their next package is the Gold Wedding Consulting Package. This package is a smaller consulting package than the Platinum and is designed for the couple who want to do the majority of the planning themselves but still require Your Day for guidance and the referral of good suppliers. Brides will receive: personal management on their wedding, organisation of their itinerary and vendors, free wedding planning timelines with tip sheets, questions for vendors, and worksheets, including pockets for your contracts, pictures and other important information. This is very popular package mainly because the couple are still heavily involved in the planning but also have excellent guidance and can cast all their worries on the shoulders of their wedding planner.

The smallest package is the Silver Package and is perfect for those who only want help on the day. You will receive a review of all vendor contracts and confirmation of vendor services 1-2 weeks prior to your wedding day. The couple does not need to get caught up in the small details they can sit back and enjoy their big day. What you can expect to receive is: assistance in the development of a wedding day itinerary, the service of your wedding planner on the day for a maximum of 10 hours, review of all vendor contracts and confirmation of vendor services, personal management of your wedding day itinerary and of you! This package is well worth taking out so you have peace of mind in the upcoming weeks prior to the wedding and most importantly on the day.
